GLASS
TRAJECTORY
TO A DISTANT PLANET

22 NOVEMBER 2024 - 4 JANUARY 2025

01. Alien Egg Embryo – Blue 500
Suspended within a clear crystalline egg, the vibrant blue brain and skeletal spine of this embryonic alien suggest an aquatic origin, adapted to fluid, high-pressure environments.
02. Alien Egg Embryo – Orange 500
Encased in transparent glass, this embryo's fiery orange brain and spine appear alive, pulsating with energy meant for thriving in volatile, heat-intensive ecosystems.
03. Stage 2 Alien Egg Embryo – Green 750
Larger and more developed than its counterparts, this translucent egg reveals an intricate skeletal structure, including additional limbs. The luminous green brain suggests an advanced stage of growth, poised for terrestrial adaptation."
04. Alien Egg Embryo – Black 500
The dark, shadowed brain and spine of this alien embryo are encased in a clear shell, the embryo of a predator-like species crafted for survival in deep, lightless environments.
05. Alien Egg Embryo – Pink 500
Delicate pink structures of a brain and spine hover inside this translucent egg, suggesting a species that thrives in nurturing, high-energy environments.
06. Alien Egg Embryo – Green 500
This green embryo reveals the intricate details of its brain and spine, floating as though in stasis, embodying a lineage designed for adaptability in tropical environments.
07. Cosmic Pathfinder 800
A humanoid android navigator poised before a computer interface lined with buttons and glowing star maps. Its glass helmet, a transparent sphere filled with floating bubbles, represents a solar system in motion—each bubble symbolizing a planet being charted by the android's advanced stellar mapping systems.

08. Space Slug with Brain-controlled Power Suit 3750
 A vibrant green slug sits atop a massive blue brain, which controls a robotic exosuit through neural impulses. The suit, featuring a single mechanical arm, is powered by the brain, aiding the slug in its relentless hunt for rare and powerful crystals scattered across distant planets.
09. Space Flower 1 600
 Shaped by the extreme forces of a metal-rich planet, this vessel's spiked form emerges from the fusion of gravity and metallic elements. Its polished surface mirrors the surrounding environment, a testament to the powerful natural forces at play in the creation of such structures.
10. Space Flower 2 600
 Forged under the intense gravitational pull of a planet rich in metals, this enigmatic vessel features a jagged form, its reflective surface capturing the surrounding light. It stands as a relic of the forces that shape the metal worlds where it originated.
11. Space Flower 3 600
 Crafted by the gravitational forces of a dense, metallic planet, this vessel takes shape as an intricate, spiked structure, with a surface that mirrors the surrounding space. Its design is a direct result of the unique environment in which it was formed, reflecting the power of planetary forces.
12. Nebula Shuriken 750
 Forged by the ancient Subtyrantians, this weapon symbolizes their dominance over cosmic forces. The shuriken's tendril-like spikes mirror the galaxy's turbulent energy, while the central sphere channels the magic of distant stars, a power wielded by the Subtyrantians to enforce their will across the universe.
13. Darkforge Ray Gun 1200
 The Darkforge Ray Gun is used by the Dark Ones, an ancient alien race capable of traveling through black holes. Powered by a rare black liquid found in specific planetary formations, this weapon channels their mastery over space and energy.
14. Krylon Energy Blade 1200
 A weapon of the Krylon, an alien species from distant stars, the energy blade is powered by green power crystals mined on deep space planets. Wielded by the Krylon in combat, it allows them to cut through the toughest of materials with ease.
15. Alien Slime Army (8 available) 150 each
 An intelligent group of alien slimes with the ability to condense into one larger form to fight enemies, adapting to challenges with quick thinking and flexibility.
16. Artefact Collector 1350
 The Artefact Collector emits a soft, otherworldly glow, navigating the darkest planets and ruins of deep space. With specialized goggles enhancing its vision, it retrieves ancient alien relics, uncovering secrets of lost civilizations.

| 17. | Artificial Pilot SystemAn artificial intelligence developed by the Subtyrantians, this orb pilots spacecraft and land vehicles with exceptional precision. Compact and versatile, it can be physically picked up and transferred between vehicles, ensuring seamless control during missions on distant planets.” | 800      |
| 18. | Mining Robot Discovers Power CrystalBuilt for deep-space excavation, this robot specializes in unearthing rare resources. Among its discoveries is the highly sought-after power crystal, a resource radiating untapped energy essential for advanced technologies and exploration.                               | 1900     |
| 19. | Golden Space FlowerLarge golden tendril-like spikes unfurl from the vessel, reflecting energy from dying stars and harnessing it for continuous growth.   | 1500     |
| 20. | Galaxy VaseCapturing the essence of a distant solar system, where each marble represents a planet, and the swirling markings trace the ancient forces guiding a civilization’s journey through the stars.   | 500      |
| 21. | Face Off – Subtyrantian Brain Tank vs Cave Dwelling OozeLocked in battle, the Subtyrantian brain tank is called in to face off against the aggressive slime monster in this iconic showdown in order to retrieve the power crystals from the darkest depths of this planet cave system that the ooze protects.    | 2700     |
| 22. | Hologram Projection Extraction Unit-521 – Resting on Gold Spore DepositDeployed to a Valtarian asteroid field, this extraction unit rests atop a gold spore deposit while waiting for a software upgrade being delivered remotely, the body of the hologram is projected from the holo-pack on its back.          | 1700     |
| 23. | Alien Slime Commander with Battle HelmetThe commanding force of the slime planets space force, this leader dons an advanced helmet giving the wearer telekinetic abilities and a sixth sense of sorts.  | 450      |
| 24. | Space Crystal (2 available)A shimmering power source refined from alien minerals, its fractured light carries energy signatures of an ancient star.   | 250 each |
| 25. | Great DiscoveryDriven by a thirst for discovery, this protagonist ventures into the farthest reaches of space, seeking the ancient power source within the crystals to unlock energy that could reshape civilizations.  | 2850     |
| 26. | Exploding Star (5 available)The Exploding Stars embody the raw energy of cosmic explosions.   | 370 each |
